ARE YOU A SECOND-MILE CHRISTIAN?

1 The Meaning of Going the “Second Mile”

In Jesus’ time, a Roman soldier could compel a person to carry their equipment for one mile. This was a form of legal obligation, and it was something that could easily be resented. Jesus’ command to go a second mile was radical, as it encouraged believers to go beyond mere duty and show extraordinary generosity and willingness. Going the “second mile” signifies going above and beyond in both acts of service and in our attitudes towards others.

2 Serving with a Christlike Attitude

Going the second mile isn’t just about doing more but doing so with the right heart and attitude. Believers need to view acts of service, no matter how small or inconvenient, as opportunities to reflect Christ’s love and humility. Rather than begrudgingly fulfilling obligations, Christians should joyfully seek to serve others and show kindness beyond what is expected.

3 Demonstrating Unconditional Love

The second-mile principle also applies to relationships, especially when others are difficult to love or when the situation feels unfair. By choosing to go the second mile, Christians are demonstrating unconditional love—love that isn’t based on how others treat us but on how Christ has loved us. This challenges the idea of loving only those who love us back, instead calling believers to extend love and grace even in difficult situations.

4 The Impact of Going the Extra Mile

Going the second mile has the potential to make a powerful impact on others. When Christians go beyond expectations, they stand out in a world that often values self-interest and convenience over selflessness. This can be a powerful witness to the world about the love and character of Christ.

5 Christ as Our Example

Jesus Himself is the ultimate example of going the second mile. Jesus went far beyond what was required in His sacrifice on the cross for humanity. His willingness to lay down His life for others is the model for Christians to follow in their own lives.

6 A Call to Action

Will you go the second mile? Christians need to actively seek opportunities to go the second mile in their daily lives. Whether in relationships, work, or service to the church and community, believers should look for ways to exceed expectations and serve with a heart of love and humility.

Being a “Second-Mile Christian” is a call for believers to go beyond what is required or expected in their Christian walk.
It’s about offering extra service, demonstrating love, and reflecting Christ’s heart in a world that needs it most.

REACHING THE WORLD

Our ministry recently had the privilege to legally assist some missionaries who had some unusual issues. Helping others remove legal red tape to take advantage of every opportunity to reach the world for Christ is our calling. These missionaries had a reputation of reaching dozens of people for Christ in their city each week, but they were in danger of being pulled off the field. We could not let that happen. Each individual you meet has an eternal destination. Every missionary, pastor, and, yes, every Christian has a mandate from God to tell others about the good news of the Gospel.

Each week, our legal missionaries travel for legal meetings, court hearings, and depositions. As we travel, we have the unique opportunity of handing out Gospel tracts to strangers in airports, on airplanes, in restaurants, and many other places around the country. Because of what we get to do for the Lord, we can serve others who are being hindered from sharing the Gospel in the same manner. God's Word will never return void, and it will plant a seed for someone to reap. God has a plan, and it includes every person taking the initiative to speak about Christ.

We are also in many churches and conferences throughout the year that inform others of how we can help. Your legal right to witness is paramount to God's plan for your life. What can you do today? Take a moment when you stop for a meal or drive through a fueling station to hand the worker a Gospel tract and introduce that person to your Savior. We have tracts available that you can use if you need some. The Gospel is good news, and it is the best news anyone can ever hear!

If you are a pastor, think about putting the Gospel on your website if it is not already there, and make your address and phone number easy to see so that anyone can easily find you if they have questions.

If you are a believer, you can be the wisest person in your area. The Scriptures reveal that "He that winneth souls is wise." With the most careful thought, let us also remind ourselves of the reverse: God is telling us that it is unwise for us not to win souls. Ask God for wisdom, and He will give you the boldness to win souls.

If you have questions about how to take the first steps in reaching out to others about Christ, speak with your pastor. He will guide you through the process and be glad to teach you. You can also reach out to us here at the Christian Law Association, and we will be glad to help however we can.

10 TIPS FOR A SUCCESSFUL VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

1. Clear Registration Process

- Policy: Ensure that all children attending VBS are registered in advance. This helps with planning, class sizes, and the allocation of resources. Include consent forms for medical emergencies, permission for photography, and emergency contacts.
- Tip: Create an online registration system for ease of access, while also allowing in-person sign-ups.

2. Age Group Guidelines

- Policy: Define clear age groupings for VBS classes, ensuring that children are placed in the appropriate age groups (e.g., preschool, elementary, etc.). This promotes age-appropriate lessons and activities.
- Tip: Use age-based groupings to ensure safety and age-appropriate activities.

3. Volunteer Screening and Training

- Policy: Require all VBS volunteers to undergo background checks and training before interacting with children. This includes safety procedures, child protection policies, and first-aid basics.
- Tip: Provide a volunteer handbook with roles, expectations, and guidelines for working with children.

4. Safety and Supervision

- Policy: Maintain a clear child-to-adult supervision ratio to ensure safety. Always have more than one adult present in classrooms and activity areas, and ensure that volunteers are stationed at entry and exit points.
- Tip: Institute a “Two-Adult Rule,” meaning that no volunteer should be alone with a child.

5. Medical and Allergy Information

- Policy: Collect and maintain medical information for each child, including any allergies, medications, or special needs. Ensure that volunteers are aware of these details for safety purposes.
- Tip: Have a designated person responsible for overseeing and administering any medications during VBS.

6. Drop-off and Pick-up Procedures

- Policy: Establish strict drop-off and pick-up procedures, ensuring that children are released only to authorized adults. Use a check-in/check-out system with identification verification.

- Tip: Consider assigning pick-up tags to parents or guardians for added security.

7. Discipline and Behavior Guidelines

- Policy: Set clear expectations for behavior and discipline, emphasizing a positive, respectful, and loving environment. Establish procedures for dealing with disruptive or inappropriate behavior.
- Tip: Use a positive reinforcement approach to encourage good behavior, and have a plan for addressing behavioral issues respectfully.

8. Emergency Procedures

- Policy: Create detailed emergency procedures for various situations, including medical emergencies, natural disasters, fire drills, and other safety issues. Ensure that all volunteers are familiar with these protocols.
- Tip: Regularly review and practice emergency drills to ensure everyone knows how to respond in case of an emergency.

9. Inclusive Participation

- Policy: Ensure that VBS is open to all children. Provide accommodations or special assistance for children with physical, emotional, or developmental needs.
- Tip: Communicate with parents ahead of time if their child may need special accommodations, and plan accordingly.

10. Parent Communication and Engagement

- Policy: Keep parents informed of VBS activities, themes, and any special events through newsletters, emails, or social media updates. Encourage parental involvement and participation, and ensure parents are aware of any relevant VBS policies.
- Tip: Consider hosting a “parent night” at the end of VBS week, where children can showcase what they’ve learned and made. This is an excellent time to introduce new families to your ministry.

By using these policies, you can create a safe, organized, and enjoyable VBS experience for both children and volunteers. Clear communication, safety measures, and well-defined roles are essential to running a successful program.

America the Beautiful

Katharine Lee Bates wrote the original poem in 1893 after a trip to Pikes Peak in Colorado, inspired by the vast beauty of the American landscape. A college professor, she penned it during a summer teaching stint, reflecting on the nation's potential to exceed its flaws through sacrifice and brotherhood. Published in 1895 and later set to Samuel A. Ward's 1882 tune "Materna" in 1910, it became a beloved anthem. The line "crown thy good with brotherhood" suggests going beyond mere patriotism to selfless unity, echoing Galatians 6:2—"Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ."
