Resurrection Sunday

We made a push to get visitors out for Resurrection Sunday to hear about the story of the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ. God blessed us with 14 adult visitors and 7 children visitors. We taught about the purpose of Christ's coming in Sunday school and then told the resurrection story in the morning service. We gave an invitation call to come to Christ and we saw 7 of these adults make a decision to trust Christ. The same was done upstairs in Sunday school and Junior church, seeing 5 of the children trust Christ. We thank the Lord!!!

Fuel Crisis

The fuel crisis continues in Thailand as far as extreme fuel prices. It was discovered that some corrupt officials sold away some of Thailand's reserves to neighboring countries for personal profiteering. However, there has not been any recent announcement about fuel running out. Thailand has been sending ships to other parts of the world to get fuel.

Trip to America

We returned to America because my daughter Rebekah is graduating from Bible college in May. We will also be visiting mostly new churches as we are actually in much need of added support. We are praying to gain at least 5 new supporting churches and 7 would actually be ideal as we lost two more churches last month because of church difficulties. Please pray for us about this need.

This is James presenting the Gospel on a Thursday night to a Burmese man. James is Karen and speaks four languages. He has worked for me for five years. He got his Thai citizenship last week. It was a very happy moment for all of us. He has lived in Thailand for 30 years, but was not a citizen. We thank the Lord for this answer to prayer!

How beautiful it is to see these people searching through the Scriptures! This is a common site in America, but not in Thailand. Churches here are a rare thing to find. Of course, I realize that many "churches" in America are not real churches and have false doctrine. However, there are still far more true churches in American than Thailand.

This was a lady that Sutin presented the Gospel to that said she was going to trust in herself and if that doesn't work she will try it his way. How sad that she thinks there will be a second chance to do things over after death. It just shows how steeped in darkness these people are in this Buddhist dominated country!
